TALENTLINK

TALENT LINK FOR SUPERVISORS

Talent Link is a Learning & Development online platform for Stork supervisors and was launched in 2022. It contains all the information needed to be effective in a Supervisor role, with a range of tools to develop and learn at the same time.

Since its launch we have been impressed to see that 204 Stork supervisors have accessed the platform and have completed 1,873 modules.

SAFER TOGETHER RECOGNITION AWARDS (JAN/FEB):

TAKE THE LEAD

Our Take the Lead employee recognition scheme has an online form which makes it easier than ever to nominate your colleagues. With categories linking directly to our Core Values the awards provide the opportunity to give instant recognition to a colleague for a job well done. The launch of eCards it's never been easier to say thank you. Got a mobile to hand? Scan the code on the left and get nominating.

RECOGNITION AWARDS SPOTLIGHT:

John Kruse (Rope Access Fabric Maintenance Supervisor and Assist & Assure Coach), was a recipient of a Gold Safer Together Recognition Award.

John's ongoing contribution to embedding the 'Assist & Assure' programme has been exemplary. It promotes a way of working that focuses on safety, leadership and influencing behaviours. John coaches the Brent

Charlie Team to have a disciplined approach to safety conversations during work preparation, planning, job execution and supervision activities.

A positive impact has been made to not only Stork's health and safety performance but also to our client's. Shell acknowledges the important part John plays in supporting the positive performance on their asset and Stork is proud to have John as part of the team.

Richard Jackman (Advanced Scaffolder) was a recipient of a Gold Safer Together Recognition Award.

Richard was nominated as he consistently demonstrates a first class attitude towards HSEQ. Richard is continually setting an example that all Stork operational personnel should aspire to. He always owns and queries unsafe acts / conditions and ensures suitable corrective action is taken. He's taken lessons learned from other locations he has worked on and applied these on the Shell Gannet. In addition, Richard has received glowing praise from the Gannet OIM for his performance. Richard received his award from Ken Pirie (Senior Contract Delivery Manager).
